Call for Showing of Banks at Close of Business March 4-Railway Preferred Strong.

Hereafter, beginning with the replies to the present "call," it will be obligatory on the part of cashiers to make oath as to the amount of net deposits. Heretofore, so-called complimentary deposits between banks have been counted by both institutions, and also deposits for the account of collections ounting as deposits checks sent from Washington banker for collection, ounting as deposits checks sent from a Washington banker for collection, and the latter likewise accrediting checks sent to him for collection on Virginia points as a deposit account.

Local bankers are of the opinion that Local bankers are of the opinion that the new ruling in the matter of complimentary deposits, sometimes referred to as "padding deposits," is eminently proper and should have been made long ago, while they hold that some little injustice, is, perhaps, likely to result from that part of the order which covers checks in process of collection.

Washington banks are likely to show Washington banks are likely to show decreased deposits as compared with December 31, 1914, the date of the last previous call, and a material increase as compared with March 4, 1914. National banks, with the exception of four institutions, have repaid their entire quota of District tax money to the government, and the four that have been given further time to make repayment have returned 80 per cent of their holdings. Then, too, the government has withdrawn other funds from depository banks; Panama cash and Red Cross funds have been taken out for use. The total tax money deposited with the banks was $4,000,000.

with the banks was $4.000,000.

Trust companies and savings banks may show some increase in deposits, but the aggregate deposits will probably be less than on December 31, 1914.

An interesting comparison will be made when the aggregate reports of all banks has been tabulated in the matter of overdrafts. The order of the controller of the currency in this matter was promulgated after the previous "call." Unquestionably the report will show a large reduction in the aggregate overdrafts, but not a general elimination.

Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stacks market. First deed of trust notes (first mortgages), well secured on real cetars in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of indi-viduals or corporations for their stability and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and invest-ments."
